High school exchange in Portugal

SCHOOL EXPERIENCE

International students (native English speakers only) interested in discovering Portugal and the Portuguese culture will no doubt enjoy their High School year in this country. Portuguese ranks currently as the 6th most widely spoken language in the world

Attending classes is practically the only activity that takes place in Portuguese public schools. Most students interested in other activities, such as sports, have to take them outside of school.

Most schools provide free tuition in Portuguese as a foreign language, for foreign students.

SCHOOL SYSTEM

The Portuguese educational system consists of 12 years of schooling before higher education. Secondary schools consist of years 10, 11 and 12. After the 9th grade, students have to choose a certain area of studies (general courses and technical/vocational courses).

Each area of studies includes different subjects, some of which are compulsory for each area of studies (Philosophy, Physical Education, Foreign Language, Mathematics, Personal and Social Development).

Some students may have all their classes grouped together, but sometimes there may be empty periods in between. During these periods students are free to stay at school or to go out. Some subjects are taken more often than others which means that a student may have a certain subject five hours/week and other subjects only one hour/week. Under certain conditions, students are allowed to miss classes up to a certain limit.

The relative freedom that students enjoy in Portugal enables young people to enjoy a lot of time together, to make friends and to plan most of their activities with their group of friends.

Please note that this program is available for English native speakers from the USA, Australia, Canada, Ireland and the United Kingdom, as well as students from Belgium, Germany, Austria, The Netherlands, Switzerland and Italy.

Graduation is not possible.
